COMMUNITY COOKBOOK

Do you live or work on the Lower East Side or near the East River Waterfront? We want your seafood recipes and stories.

Fish Stories Community Cookbook is a project by Meredith Drum and Rachel Stevens in collaboration with folks living and working near the East River on the Lower East Side, a former seaport and ever-changing neighborhood. Through sharing recipes for cooking seafood plus stories, historical recipes, drawings, maps and health and ecology information about the East River the project ties everyday life in the neighborhood to the ecology of the rivers, harbor and estuaries of New York City.

Contributions will be posted to www.fishstories.nyc and contributors will get a copy of the printed cookbook. Visit fishstories.nyc to learn more or to submit a seafood recipe or story. Contact us for more information or to set up a workshop: oystercityproject@gmail.com.

This project is for Paths to Pier 42. Join us at Pier 42 public events on May 9th, July 18th and October 25th. Learn more at www.pathstopier42.com.
